Council Corner By Council Member Brent Strate

This past month I took the opportunity to share some of the immortal words of President Abraham Lincoln with my students. This experience was particularly memorable because of the commemoration of the 150th anniversary of the Gettysburg Address.

In reading Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and his Second Inaugural Address, I am convinced that the message of these two documents are eternal and therefore as applicable today as when they were delivered by Lincoln.

In the Gettysburg Address Lincoln stated: "It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced.... ..that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom – and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth."

It is both "fitting and proper" that each of us as individuals, family, neighbors, community, state and nation continue the pursuit of the ever present "unfinished work." We must do our duty by dedicating our lives to the noble ideals and values upon which our country was founded. We must consecrate our time and resources to the betterment of first ourselves and then others. It is through this service that we honor those who "gave the last full measure of devotion" throughout the history of our country. While the words of the Gettysburg Address are convincing and inspirational, words without our work are nothing more than pompous drivel. It is the opportunity of each new generation to bring forth a "new birth of freedom" that will light the way through their struggles and challenges. It is my hope that we maintain our faith in ourselves, the principles of our government, and to our God as we meet our present challenges and those which lie ahead.

Lincoln gave his Second Inaugural Address with the conclusion of the Civil War just weeks away. In his speech he acknowledged the consequences that slavery had upon the nation. More importantly, Lincoln outlined the steps necessary to reunite our country then and now. "With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle and for his widow and orphan, to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."

Once again it is "fitting and proper" that we acknowledge the true pathway to peace as outlined by President Lincoln. True peace is achieved by maintaining "firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right." We should never abandon the founding principles of our nation for the temporary praise and fleeting peace of capitulation. We must humbly reach out to those we feel "malice" towards with true "charity." We must always seek for common ground on which we may move forward. May we find ways during this holiday season and throughout the year to "bind up the nation's wounds" that we may find true peace in completing our "unfinished business."

Angel Tree Program

The South Ogden Police Department's Angel Tree program was created in 1999 so that all children may experience the magic of Christmas! This program has been a success each year thanks to the generous citizens of South Ogden City. Each angel on the tree represents a child in need, living in South Ogden City; it will include their gender, age, and type of items needed. If you are interested in adopting an "angel" this year, the tree will be located in the police department lobby beginning Friday, November 22. Items for your angel will need to be returned to the police department, unwrapped, by Wednesday, December 18.

Get into the true spirit of Christmas this year by adopting an angel from your very own community.

Candle Safety Tips

Children under 10 and adults over 75 are at greatest risk for death in a candle fire. (The injury rate from home candle fires is highest for people age 10 through 29.) And when candle fires occur in the home, they are more likely to cause death than home fires from most of the major causes. Only fires caused by smoking and children playing with fire have higher death rates.

Almost half of home candle fires nationwide (44 percent) start in the bedroom and 19 percent start in the living room or den. South Ogden City is not immune to these statistics with records indicating at least 1 house fire a year contributed by poor candle use safety.

The South Ogden City Fire Department hopes everyone to have a safe, happy holiday season.
