Council Corner

By Councilmember Sallee Orr

South Ogden City has had a successful summer! South Ogden Days in June had over 17,000 visitors –thank you for your participation. We as a city council have held two “Council in the Park” meetings this summer and encourage you to visit us the first and third Tuesdays of each month to voice concerns and hear what your council is doing. The Communities that Care program for the Bonneville Cone area is ready for the school year and we encourage everyone to get involved and to volunteer contact: Leann PoVay Jackson @ 801-668-1445. The new amphitheater is finished at the South Ogden Nature Park. The amphitheater and much of South Ogden’s Nature Park was made possible with grants from the RAMP tax and the George and Delores Eccles Foundation. We hope you have enjoyed South Ogden’s parks this summer.

South Ogden City has the following items on the calendar for the rest of 2013:

Third annual “Ghouls and Goblins Festival” October 14-19 at the area business around 39th and Washington. Come enjoy the festivities and support South Ogden Businesses.

Trunk or Treat October 30 Sponsored by the South Ogden City Fire Department held annually at South Ogden Junior High.

Pet Adoption Day December 7 Sponsored and held at Young Subaru on Riverdale Road. Last year over 100 animals were adopted with the help of South Ogden’s awesome animal control staff and volunteers.

South Ogden’s “Olde Fashion Family Christmas” December 14 at 40th Street Park by the city building. A fun evening with music and food. Please continue to support South Ogden City events and the many events that local businesses sponsor for all of us to enjoy. We thank you for your support and commitment to South Ogden. Our residents make South Ogden what it is today.

City’s Strategic

One of the City’s 2013 goals is to improve the city’s emergency preparedness by: 1) Having a well organized and functioning CERT (Community Emergency Response Team) program, and 2) Hold an emergency table top exercise in the Emergency Operations Center for staff and elected officials.

In order to accomplish the first goal, the city needs your help! The city is seeking residents who are willing to volunteer their time to become a member of the city’s CERT program. In order for this to be successful the city needs more involvement from residents.

The city will assist CERT members in getting trained and will, over time, invite CERT to participate in emergency training exercises throughout the year.

If you are interested in volunteering to be a part of the South Ogden City CERT program please contact Chief Cameron West at 801.622.2752.

The city is in the process of updating the city’s Emergency Operations Plan. This important plan is what the city will follow during a large scale disaster. Once the plan is updated the city staff, elected officials, and CERT members will conduct exercises to insure proper execution of the plan.

Please join us in helping prepare the community to respond during a disaster by getting involved with CERT.

Good Landlord Program

On June 18, 2013, the South Ogden City Council approved Ordinance 13-15 – Adopting a Good Landlord Program. South Ogden City’s program is similar to others adopted by nearby cities including Ogden, Clearfield, Washington Terrace, Roy, Logan, and Salt Lake City. Good Landlord Programs are instituted by cities to improve neighborhoods, increase tenant quality of life, and reduce public safety costs by reducing crime.

Under the program, rental dwelling licenses are issued to all residential rental units, the cost of which is significantly discounted if landlords agree to be part of the Good Landlord Program and follow particular requirements for managing their property(s).

Some of these requirements include: 1) agreeing to conduct criminal background checks on all new tenants and refusing to rent to applicants with significant criminal histories, 2) attending an approved “Good Landlord” training course, and 3) agreeing to maintain their properties at a certain standard of living (no broken windows, smoke and carbon monoxide alarms, etc.) The program has had notable success in other cities, with the city of Ogden reporting an 11.5% reduction in crime since the program’s introduction in 2004.

The City is in the process of contacting landlords and assisting them in joining the Good Landlord Program. Our goal is to have all landlords participating in the program by the end of 2013. Any further questions should be directed to Ben Robbins, Good Landlord Coordinator at brobbins@southogdencity.com and Leesa Kapetanov, City Recorder at lkapetanov@southogdencity.com

Fire Department Message Carbon Monoxide Poisoning

Carbon Monoxide (CO) is tasteless, odorless and colorless. Its weight or vapor density is approximately the same as air. Therefore, it will penetrate every portion of a structure the same as air does. Blood would much rather bond with CO than it would with oxygen. The ability of CO to be absorbed into the blood is 230 times greater than it is for oxygen. Idling automobiles with the exhaust pipe blocked by snow has led to the poisoning of car occupants. Portable generators, lawnmowers, furnaces, charcoal grills, boats, especially houseboats, has resulted in fatal CO exposures. The initial symptoms of acute CO poisoning include headache, nausea, general illness, and fatigue. These symptoms are often mistaken for a virus such as the flu or other illnesses such as food poisoning. Headache is the most common symptom of acute CO poisoning; it is often described as dull, frontal, and continuous. Suspect CO poisoning if other persons in the area are exhibiting the same signs or feeling the same symptoms. CO is accumulative. Moderate exposures repeated over several days can lead to an acute poisoning. It takes approximately one month for CO to work itself out of the body. Treat CO poisoning by removing the person to fresh air and administering oxygen if possible.
